Braver Leaders, Teams and Innovation

From Silicon Valley to stand-up and improv stages, Second City and beyond, Kathy is a speaker, author, and former tech exec on a mission to build braver, healthier leaders, teams and workplaces.

Kathy discovered in over two decades of comedy and tech product and comms leadership that when we laugh and play together, we build connection, trust, courage and innovation. Humor and playfulness cultivate an Experimental Mindset. That's the secret sauce to braver, bolder people, comms and ideas. It's Brave Fuel℠.

With a blend of comedy, improv and storytelling, she has audiences engaged, laughing and transformed by big mindset shifts. Kathy has been featured in Forbes, HuffPo, and Inc.com named her book, "Stop Boring Me!", an Amazon top 10 at launch, a "must-read" for leaders. She founded Keeping it Human℠ in 2010.
